When Brian learned that Jesse had a passion for taking photos and sharing his experiences, he jumped at the opportunity to infuse his passion for photography into the way he supports Jesse. As a pair they filtered through Jesse's photo library to make an electronic gallery to send to his network, all the while talking about what makes a good photo. Jesse now uses this new-found excitement to get into his community and share his experience through photography.

A day in the life of a Job Developer: Pat was supporting Bella in her job search for an apprentice hairdressing position. As part of the hiring process, the manager of the salon asked Bella to cut Pat's hair to show off her skills. Pat's mask held up her chin as her thoughts raced about what kind of haircut the manager wanted to see. Bella did a fantastic job- and we would like to congratulate her in her new job as a hairstylist apprentice.
